Welcome message

The SRF2027 Organizing Committee is happy to welcome all sponsors and exhibitors to the 23rd International Conference on RF Superconductivity (SRF2027), to be held in Padua from June 27 to July 2, 2027.

The SRF conference series has long provided a vibrant forum for scientists, engineers, students, and industrial partners to present and discuss the latest advances in superconducting radio-frequency technology for particle accelerators. For this 2027 edition, we are delighted to host the conference in Padua, Italy, a historic university city and UNESCO World Heritage site, located near Venice. Since its inaugural event in 1980, the SRF Conference has been held biennially, rotating among Europe, North America, and Asia. Over nearly fifty years, it has become the reference forum where the scientific community presents, explores, and discusses both the fundamentals and the applications of superconducting radio-frequency technology.

For organizations interested in supporting the conference and enhancing their visibility, several sponsorship opportunities will be available. Exhibition spaces will be placed in the same area of poster sessions, catering services and on the main routes to the conference room. Visibility will be thus granted to all exhibitors, who will be able to maximise interaction and contacts with delegates. Additional sponsorship options are available to make a targeted and unique marketing impression on conference participants.

We are honoured to bring the SRF Conference back to Italy, thirty years after the iconic 1997 edition held in Abano Terme, and we very much look forward to welcoming you to Padua.
Let's meet in Padua!

Sincerely,

Cristian Pira and Daniele Sertore
SRF 2027 Conference Co-Chairs, INFN

CONFERENCE PROGRAM

Conference in Padua (Padova Congress)

PARTECIPANTS TREND

Major developments in accelerator-based physics research—most notably the Future Circular Collider (FCC) at CERN—together with the growing demand for compact accelerators for industrial and medical applications and emerging fields such as quantum technologies, are significantly broadening the scope of the SRF community. These developments are attracting an increasingly diverse audience from academia, research laboratories, technology developers, and industry.

Building on this renewed momentum, and further supported by the conference's return to Italy and the appeal of Padua as a host city, SRF2027 is expected to welcome more than 350 participants, returning to—and potentially exceeding—pre-pandemic attendance levels.

EXHIBITION AREA

Exhibition spaces will be placed:

- 1st floor in the same area of coffee breaks near the Conference room and on the main routes to the conference room.
- 3rd floor in the same area of poster sessions and coffee breaks.

Visibility will be thus granted to all exhibitors, who will be able to maximise interaction and contacts with delegates.
